Learning foreign languages using computer technologies in the context of distance education.

Annotation: The article describes how to learn foreign languages online at home in an emergency situation in the country.

Keywords: online learning, smartphone, Internet, computer technologies, applications for learning a foreign language, online and offline courses

In 2020, the world was in an extreme political situation. That is, as we all know, COVID-19 infection has become widespread, and many people have become infected and become seriously ill. In the face of the threat of a Coronavirus epidemic in the world, including in our country, the transfer of universities to distance learning, including remote control of all types of knowledge assessment, was one of the concrete steps taken to curb the spread of the coronavirus epidemic, which is slowly spreading around the world.

In order to fully inform the education system, the prerequisites for distance learning are clearly outlined in the strategic program "Kazakhstan-2030" proposed by the first president of the Republic of Kazakhstan – Elbasy Nursultan Nazarbayev. Today's young people, who strive to master high-quality education, have a full opportunity to use all kinds of new technologies. After all, one of the new forms of organization of the educational process is training through distance learning technologies. After all, distance learning is the main form of full – time and part-time education, based on computer and telecommunications technologies that meet modern requirements in the educational process, using innovative and traditional teaching methods.

Now let's focus on the features and effectiveness of the distance education system. My personal opinion: online training opens up a lot of opportunities. During training, it is possible to work and to fully develop themselves. Online learning is an opportunity for students. Do what they have long wanted to do, develop well, devote time to themselves, and work in parallel with their studies. All this allows you to read online. Since classes at home do not take much time. Someone said that the level of knowledge will fall, I would also be against it. Because during online learning, students start reading regular lessons. Because if you don't complete your homework in time, the module will automatically close and you will get 0 points. The camera records everything while the lesson is going on.

In addition, we will save time visiting the University. In the context of online learning, we are far from friends and colleagues, but in a time of developing IT technologies and increasing the importance of computer equipment, we can contact and see each other online at any time via video calls.

I would say that online education is one of the factors contributing to the reduction of corruption. In addition, I think that thanks to online training, it is possible to reduce the number of corruption and harassment in the walls of the University several times. We can also participate in various online courses (business, culinary, language learning, improving your knowledge depending on your specialty) at a favorable price. This is how we get to know ourselves from a different angle. The most important thing - online learning - allows us to do what we like and develop ourselves in a comprehensive way.

In particular, it is worth noting the learning of languages in the context of online learning. As everyone knows, mastering foreign languages, including English, opens up many opportunities.

- English is accepted as the official language in 59 countries around the world. In addition to the United Kingdom, residents of countries such as the United States, Canada, Australia, and India speak English.
- If you learn English quickly, you can quickly explain what you have in mind while traveling and eat freely in the restaurant. You will be able to communicate with tourists from other countries and learn about the culture of the world
- if you speak English, it will help you get a job in the future.
- According to statistics for 2017, English – speaking sites – 51.3%, Russian-speaking sites - 6.7%. The share of sites in the Kazakh language is growing over time.

We have a full opportunity to learn an additional language through online training. Because for online training, it is enough to have only the Internet and a smartphone. Features of online courses:

- they organize the time of classes according to the time that is convenient for you (that is we save time and do not have to go anywhere)
- the cost of an online course is cheaper than offline classes.
- We can repeat what we didn't understand.
- We can learn anytime, anywhere.

Currently, you can find the course you need through social networks, especially on Instagram. If we talk about myself personally, my future profession is a trilingual (Kazakh, Russian, English) biology teacher, that is the profession I am currently studying is directly related to the English language.

In addition, I want to know English myself, that is, to be interested. To this end, I started looking for online courses in this emergency. The shared social network offers various English language courses. I chose "online bb" online course of the organization "online bb". The course organizers have developed a special platform "Talent LMS". Its main feature is explained by the Kazakh language, Kazakh examples. Very effective, of course. In addition, course managers work with each participant individually, with a video call, through the Zoom program, new classes are held every day in the evening. To get motivation among all participants of the course, competitions were organized on all the topics covered in order to summarize the results. And each tour was held on a different platform. For example, Quiz Planet, Zoom, TalentLMS. I am very happy that I took this course. I became a member of a new positive environment. We are working together with “onlinebb” to improve my level of English. This is an example of myself. That is, I had the opportunity to develop additional English by studying online at home. Of course, there are English courses that work offline in almost any city. But I really like the educational tactics of the onlinebb Center. If I were studying at a university, wouldn't I have the opportunity to take the course?

In general, I would like to say that there are many ways to learn a new language for a person who wants to learn a language and develop himself. In accordance with the requirements of the time, as well as the global situation, everything will be held in an online format. That is, it is enough if you have a smartphone with an internet connection. There are a lot of online courses, in addition, there are a lot of bloggers who teach a new language on Instagram, study abroad, and speak a foreign language. Among them there are even those who learn their knowledge for free. In addition, there are special sites on the internet, such as Speakly, Lang-8, Italki, for the general public with language speakers.

Advantages of learning a language with a native speaker.

- Classes with a native speaker will help you adapt your hearing to spontaneous foreign speech.
- A native speaker shares with students stories about traditions, holidays, habits of compatriots, opinions about certain events.
- A native speaker will teach the language spoken in their home country right now.

In addition, depending on your level of foreign language proficiency, you can watch movies and cartoons in a foreign language on the YouTube network on your computer or smartphone.

Today, there are a lot of users of the telegram network. Because there are a lot of useful groups. Register on sites that teach English, and will be of great help in improving your English. I registered on the telegram channel Oxana Dolinka, Motivational Quotes for Success, English Books from M, Online BB, I get a lot of useful information from the same books.

I want to conclude that "Internet and computer technologies" are indispensable tools for learning a new language. This gives great opportunities to people who say they are learning a language. Therefore, we must use what we have for useful things. Good luck to all new language learners.
